Carol

If you listen you will hear, because this winter season brings them very near,
on wings of music —
so tune your ears, be quick, all who've been put upon,
harmonies charge the air, listen, don't just stare.

Silence, the snow's white shroud is pulled across the dark brown gardens. Clear and loud, a perturbation, is it within us, or a visit of strangers, no, of friends.
Around us comes down a universe, don't pretend you haven't a friend.

These multitudes hover with excited clamour,
the wide skies they cover, trumpeting good news,
not just for the Jews,
for everyone, the new born Boy will be the hammer makes of sorrows an alloy with our always JOY.
